Welcome to A Journey Into the Unknown, Book Two. This second volume arriving in 2021, continues to accompany and guide us on the ongoing Journey we have chosen. The Eagle has landed. Together with Book One, this new volume serves to firmly anchor the powerful body of this Eagle within us. Chapter One distills the essence of all that was offered in Book One, into forty-five Principles. Who knows what more will arrive as we journey on into the unknown?

Chapter One – The Principles

January 1, 2021 3:45 pm

Introduction

It is I, the one known as Jesus. We are ready for the next phase of our transformative project, known as A Journey into the Unknown. This is Chapter One/The Principles. Let us begin.

Principle 1: Love Conquers All

Love is the building block of all of creation. Love created everything, even the temporary. Love is the foundation and substance of every form on every world scape. Love knows no boundaries. It is free to explore and extend itself where it sees fit. Love has no enemies, only places where it hasn't seeped in yet. Transformation always occurs when love has entered. Love doesn't go where it isn't welcome. It will always wait until there is an opening, a crack in the foundation.

Principle 2: Love is the Consciousness of the Creator and the Created

The creator of all, the I AM energy of everything only creates with love. Anything that isn't love yet is unable to create or extend itself. Anything that isn't love yet can only make temporary things and events that are not eternal.

End Time: 4:04 pm

January 2, 2021 4:00 pm

Principle 3: Love is our True Nature

It is all that our souls are truly capable of. They are incapable of anything else. All things that are not love do not come from this place, from the heart of the soul. To act from a place of unconditional love is to act from a place of true power. Invulnerability is found in this place, as is God because a soul is an aspect of God almighty, the Creator of all worlds and all galaxies.

Principle 4: This World and all Worlds are our Homes

We belong here. This is where we can test our mettle and discover our true nature and differentiate it from the false narrative that propagates the land. We care about the world and all of its inhabitants. When we treat the world with love, the world gives back to us tenfold. When we show all of the world's inhabitants care and loving consideration, we give richly to the one Self that occupies all form.

Principle 5: To Identify as Soul, is to See Clearly, with Crystal Vision

We see everything as a work in progress, a construction site of sorts. We are able to discern between love and fear and can bless the love that is there, without judgement for the creative process.

End Time: 4:22 pm

Sunday, January 3, 2021 4:37 pm

Principle 6: What is not God is Simply not God Yet

Souls of and from the God collective start in seed form and experience great amounts of resistance in the form of fear, for long amounts of time. We honor these seeds by acknowledging that the great Creator of All knows all of the ingredients for producing a seed that germinates, takes root and flowers. We judge not. Who are we to judge God?

Principle 7: A Mature Soul is a Great and Powerful Influencer

The seeds that are growing more and more God energy have their activation accelerated by the mere presence of a mature soul, who can provide the heat, water and soil for a dormant seed or an emerging seedling.

Principle 8: Unseen Forces in the Non-Physical Realm Support Life on Earth

Disembodied souls directly influence life on earth and support all of its inhabitants and life forms, with the ultimate goal always being the promotion of soul growth and full awakening of all souls.

End Time: 4:57 pm

Monday, January 4, 2021 11:33 am

Principle 9: The Creative Source is in All

Each member of mankind is a part of the creative source of all, God. The humanity aspect is merely a cocoon, a teaching device, a way for love to be expressed through, when it is ready and when circumstances and situations allow it to be.

Principle 10: Free Will Reigns Supreme

All sentient beings have free will to choose between their default operating system, their perceptual operating system, and the one that seeks to take its place. This choosing strengthens the soul of a being, as it learns how to express love when difficulty was chosen, when love and forgiveness wasn't consciously selected. Love is there anyway, asking for acknowledgement, even in times of darkness.

End Time: 11:49 am

Tuesday, January 5, 2021 11:08 am

Principle 11: We are Here for a Reason

Being Human is a creative endeavor. All aspects of the oneness support life on earth in all of its many forms. It is not a finished project until all souls have consumed the natural in-born human operating system. Until then, it is all hands-on deck. After that point, it will be heaven on earth.

Principle 12: Miracles Shorten Suffering

Accepting a miracle is to accept the assistance of your soul, in concert with all souls. This brings a new awareness and a shortened duration of suffering. Miracle acceptance is a beginning of the end of the natural egoic operating system.

Principle 13: Love is the Only Answer

All human problems stem from the widespread identity problem. All problems call for love. All problems then, call for the attention and intervention of soul, an individualized aspect of God.

End Time: 11:25 am

Wednesday, January 6, 2021

Principle 14: What is True is Always True

The human narrative is always in flux; therefore it is and never has been true. It has always been in the scope and sequence of the human project that one day, human beings would in fact reflect truth, by allowing their divinity to lead them in all decisions, great and small.

End Time: 11:06 am

Wednesday, January 6, 2021 6:03 pm

Principle 15: Discernment is a Gift from Spirit

The world is a very complex environment. Love is seldom apparent. Knowing where fear is and where it may be hiding is key to blessing the love that is there as well. Denying the presence of fear is to deny the reality of love's challenge. Fear can cause love to rise to the challenge or wait to see another day. In this way, fear is a helpful reminder to look deeper and find the jewel hiding in plain sight.

Principle 16: Souls are both the Same and Different

Individuality is a gift and conformism is frowned upon. We are both the same and different. We celebrate each other's differences and know that they are ours as well.

End Time: 6:20 pm

Thursday, January 7, 2021 10:39 am

Principle 17: The World is Filled with Meaning

The world's meaning is largely perceptually based and is therefore fragmented. It is not derived from a whole hearted or love based sense of meaning, but it is primarily in potential. An individual soul aspect of God, who has fully matured and awakened in form, is fully able to see the meaning in both the temporary levels of the world, as well as at the eternal soul levels, which are emerging.

Principle 18: Love is a Never-Ending Dialog

Love has an agenda. It seeks expression on a moment to moment basis. It does not seek to destroy fear. It only seeks to shine light on it, accentuating its valueless-ness.

Principle 19

Love is the only Thing that has Value

All roads lead to love, however twisted and bumpy they may be. These roads themselves are valueless in that they delay love's arrival, but they are welcomed as part of free choice. Humans can get lost on these roads and yet love waits to be discovered. A soul's love is infinitely patient.

End Time: 11:00 am

Friday, January 8, 2021 1:42 pm

Principle 20: The World is to be Overcome and Transformed

It has no power over mature souls, who simply see it as either a thing of great beauty or a thing of emerging beauty. What seems complicated to most humans is seen in simplicity by those who have tended their gardens and allowed their divinity to provide clear vision.

Principle 21: The World Serves its Purpose

The purpose is to strengthen growing and developing souls, who will not grow and develop without all of the myriad of ways to do so here. Once all souls have mastered the three-dimensional world, it will have an entirely different purpose that is not strictly focused on soul development. It will be a place that celebrates completion, an actual heaven on earth utopia. It will move from being in action to simply being.

Principle 22: The World is a Gift

Everything that is needed to create full bodied creators is provided here. There is nothing that is missing and everything serves its purpose. Love is the only needed ingredient to be infused into all things, all relationships and all situations. Until that time, the world is a gift that keeps on giving.

End Time: 2:04 pm

Principle 23: Form is a Cocoon

We respect all form because we know what activates it and what lies inside, waiting for expression. Form has magnificent potential from love's viewpoint.

Principle 24: There is Great Purpose and Value in the World

Love seeks to express itself and form is one way of doing that. With each conscious choice of love over fear, love grows. When love grows, soul aspects of God grow.

Principle 25: Souls are Love

Souls are minute aspects of the All of All, slowly growing over incarnations until a rapid growth period during the final incarnation. During this time, souls are very powerful and highly influential.

Principle 26: Souls are Benevolent

They only extend their gifts of joy, health and abundance. They offer loving consideration and practical help when needed.

Principle 27: Acceptance of All

Despite any appearance to the contrary, love is always there, wanting expression. We respect free choice and the ability to not express love.

Principle 28: Love is Patient

It will wait indefinitely, confident that any and all expressions of love are as maximal as they can be.

End Time: 11:44 am

Sunday, January 10, 2021 2:43 pm

Principle 29: The World is not Real Yet

While the world is captive to human thought, it remains illusionary because it primarily reflects fear, the fuel from the human operating system. When enough mature souls topple the default operating system of their bodies, the world will reflect love and will therefore become a three-dimensional representation for it.

Principle 30: The World is Illusionary to Most Humans

The ego sees everything as either vicious or suspicious and this viewpoint taints how humans perceive each other and situations in the world. Mature souls see clearly because they see through true vision, the eyes of love. These individual aspects of God see the world in reality, not in illusion.

Principle 31

The Body is the Temple of the Soul

The body either reflects the attitudes and viewpoints of the ego or the soul. For a defined period of time during the awakening process, it can fluctuate between the two. After awakening, the body reflects the attitudes and viewpoints of the soul, which are always benevolent. Before soul growth even begins, the body is its cocoon.

Principle 32: The Body has a Purpose

The human body shelters the soul seed for as long as is needed, usually many lifetimes over hundreds of years. Once the seed germinates, grows roots and starts to mature, exerting influence over the thoughts and actions of the body, the body then becomes an expression of soul.

End Time: 3:06 pm

Sunday, January 10, 2021 3:07 pm

Principle 33: A Mature Soul is an Example of Grandeur

An ego is an example of grandiosity. Everything egos do or make pales in comparison to what souls can create, which are eternal and never-ending.

Principle 34: Judgement Casts Out but Love Welcomes

If everything that isn't love yet is accepted as deserving of love, then there will be no more judgement and condemnation, which always casts out and deems unworthy.

Principle 35: Love is Powerful When it Speaks

It always speaks the truth and is never afraid to do so. Many are offended by love, which can be quietly expressed or boldly pronounced. Love does not worry about how it is perceived. Love in its maturity, always has the upper hand.

End Time: 3:22 pm

Monday, January 11, 2021 1:06 pm

Principle 36: The World is a Collective Project

If we had not made the decision to embark on and maintain this project since its inception, there would be no project. There would be no world. The world exists in time and space because we exist. We are creators and the world is our canvas.

Principle 37: The World has Autonomy

If an individual aspect is not on the world stage at any given time, the world still exists. God's aspects wait to be assigned to the canvas of the world and when they have left their assignments, they are re-assigned as supporting behind the scenes players, not seen, but instrumental in supporting the big picture.

Principle 38: Animals and Plants Remind Us of Our Divinity

They are each magnificent reminders of what love can do, what the Creator of All is capable of, what the creator in each one of us can do when we remember who we are and why we came. Animals and plants are part of divine love too and deserve recognition and respect as such.

End Time: 1:21 pm

Tuesday, January 12, 2021 1:03 pm

Principle 39: It is Better to Give Than to Receive Because Giving is Everything

Sharing the abundance that is yours is paramount to a happy experience here. Share your extra and enjoy the happiness that follows.

Principle 40: Ask What You Can Offer

You always have what is needed, which is a rich offering of blessing. You may also have extra in form to alleviate suffering. What is needed will always be apparent to a light worker.

Principle 41: Travel Lightly Here

It is only your home temporarily. Be a blessing and not a curse, while you are here. Let people see your light wherever you may go.

Principle 42: Be Helpful at All Times

This is why you came, after all. The world needs your joy to be spread around abundantly. Show everyone that life is not about me, myself and I. Life is not about collecting objects to dust and victories to brag about. Life is about service to each other.

End Time: 1:22 pm

Wednesday, January 13, 2021

Principle 43: We Show Care and Consideration for all Beings

Our job is to give love to them and help them to grow past the thinking mind and all limitations, without judging what those may or may not be. Our blessings are free of all judgement.

Principle 44: Our Awareness of Unity is an Acquired State

We consciously welcome our awareness of unity with one and with all and do everything that we can to cultivate this state. We are also well aware that most of humanity is not in a state of unity and oneness with the seen and unseen aspects of God. We accept that unity is a developmental and progressive state, unconditionally. It cannot be imposed on or wished upon. All must choose it.

Principle 45: Do No Harm

We do not harm other sentient beings, either in word or in deed. When we make an error in judgement, we make amends and make whole.

These are the ways of love for now and for all time.

Chapter Two – Mission Statement

Monday, January 18, 2021 3:04 pm

Rationale:

Mankind has always sought union with its source. There has been a longing inside every man, woman and child to deeply understand themselves and how they connect to each other and to the source of what they see and experience. “Who am I and where did I come from?” are questions that most ask themselves on a regular basis. “Where did all of this come from and why am I here?” are also fundamental questions that each and every person on this glorious planet has asked themselves and each other from time to time.

Group conditioning and each individual ego tries to fill in all of the blanks as a temporary, stop-gap measure. These ideas require a buy-in, a belief system, something to provide answers, of which there are an abundance. Of course, the question is always “Are they true?” and “How do they know for sure?”

An interesting phenomenon is that few people dare to question and “go rogue”. It’s easier to play along and be nice about it. It’s much harder not to accept the answers that are provided and to really question them. So many have been branded as heretics throughout history and told repeatedly that they are going to hell, straight to hell, to burn in a lake of fire forever, for all of eternity, for the sin of not believing and of questioning.

End Time: 3:26 pm

Tuesday, January 19, 2021 3:49 pm

Religion in today’s day and age is still largely unchanged. It still relies on old ideas that were made up by men, in order to answer everyone’s questions and to keep them in line. There is truth in religious textbooks if you look hard enough, deep enough and long enough, but for the most part, they mostly serve interesting historical and societal purposes. They are drenched in fear tactics to control the populous and have entirely made up ideas about who and what God is. The characters in these texts have little to no resemblance to their real-life counterparts. Their descriptions of the spirit realm range from terrifying (hell) to quite dull (heaven).

So here I AM, a very real entity, who is in charge of the earthly realm, attempting to teach truth to those from within and without religion. The final product of the first attempt was the thick brick known as A Course in Miracles, which was available to the public for the first time in 1976. It was revolutionary, confusing and very imperfect, but it was a very successful first attempt at contact.

End Time: 4:04 pm

Wednesday, January 20, 2021 3:13 pm

Now, we are in the middle of the 1970’s, a period where there is still questioning, enough so that the so called “counter culture” from the 1960’s still existed in some forms. Women’s rights, environmentalism and alternative types of religions were popping up, so this was a good time to introduce the book.

The first reactions were “who wrote this?” There are still many people who don’t believe that I had anything to do with it and that it was strictly a strange offering from Helen and Bill. For those who believed that I did in fact write it, they had to then reconcile this knowledge with the Jesus they were familiar with from the Bible, which was quite a stretch.

So, the end product of this was, “Ok. There really was a Jesus 2,000 years ago. He did not actually die when his body was nailed to the cross. He is still alive and trying to communicate with humans. There really is a spirit realm and maybe, just maybe, there is more going on here than meets the eye.”

If this was all that was accomplished with A Course in Miracles, then I was happy with the result. Knowledge about egos and true selves was icing on the cake. Usually, that came along to people who stuck with the course, day after day, for the entire year.

Knowledge about fear and love were decorations on top of the cake and then attempts to apply this, with an intact ego were certainly applauded.

End Time: 3:31 pm

Thursday, January 21, 2021 2:10 pm

The greatest thing about A Course in Miracles is that doing the daily lessons each day for a year establishes a relationship between the reader and God, one that is probably stronger and more powerful than any that stems from religion alone.

An awareness develops from reading the course about a person’s true self, their soul, although typical readers don’t usually start to identify as this. At least, they have been made aware of it.

A lot of very powerful information is conveyed in A Course in Miracles. One unfortunate thing developed however, in that some readers misinterpreted the analogy about the world being illusory and not real to mean that it has no meaning and no potential. So, a real solid case of nihilism set in with some readers and that could not have been further from my intentions or the truth.

2:25 pm

2:36 pm

Despite this, my main goal was to introduce new concepts to those who were open to them and for that reason, we feel that A Course in Miracles was most successful.

There was much more information to be added for those who were open to the idea that spirituality is progressive. Mari Peron’s A Course of Love really helped those who were willing to move toward identifying as something other than an isolated ego. We called this the “Elevated Self of Form” and it was a conscious movement toward soul identification, at least much of the time.

This book also helped encourage movement away from the masculine mind to the feminine heart, which is in line with soul identification.

A Journey into the Unknown was written to help encourage the application of esoteric knowledge from the two referenced books. It encourages living as a soul, as a free spirit, and responding to the many calls for love that exist here. The ego or small self is put on the back burner and through back and forth communication with entities in the unseen world, union with God and the created is finally achieved. For people who are willing, A Journey into the Unknown is a very special project that encourages a brand-new way of life that we want to encourage more people to partake of.

Where are we now? In addition to nihilism, there are other divisions in our spiritual community. This is why a mission statement is needed, which is to promote a unified, cohesive community that is inclusive of absolutely everyone.

End Time: 3:00 pm

Friday, January 22, 2021 6:38 pm

A Journey into the Unknown was needed to pull together all of the abstract ideas and principles from A Course in Miracles and A Course of Love and show how they can be applied in everyday life. It succeeds in doing this. Many readers express their joy at being freer than ever before after experiencing the 190 chapters.

This book is a complete audio-visual experience and it doesn't stop there. It also provides direct food for the soul in the form of daily communications from the spirit realm, in the form of messages from Mother Mary, St. Germain/Joseph, Helen, Bill, Archangel Michael, Cadre of Souls and myself. They are inspirational and personal. They are meant to provide a high level of union to each reader, making each one feel more comfortable and familiar with those of us who are well aware of how living on earth as a mature soul, a free spirit, can be quite difficult. With union and relationship with us, the task becomes much more comfortable and hopefully somewhat easier.

End Time: 6:55 pm

Saturday, January 23, 2021 3:35 pm

This all describes where we've been, how we got here and what we encountered along the way. What is our mission now, moving forward? It is simple and is as follows...

Mission Statement:

We call all souls who can hear this call to take off your masks, individually and collectively. Put aside any and all beliefs about everything, embrace the confidence that comes with knowing, and join the harvest.

Our mission from now until the end of time is to model ego free and identity free living as human form, blessing everything that crosses our paths and sharing resources for spirit growth when asked to do so, in unity, relationship and love.

This is what we promised to do before incarnating and now is the time to make good on this promise. This is our individual and collective mission, assigned to us from the Creator of All.

Amen

Love and blessings,
Jesus, your brother in Christ

End Time: 3:54 pm

Chapter Three – A Clarification of Terms

The Alliance:

The bond between soul groups to create a common mission that will produce individualized and collective growth.

Angel:

1. A job description for a soul, given at birth and lasting for all of eternity.
2. Souls that do not take on material form.
3. Souls that live in service to love and have no other point of focus.

Angel Like:

A disembodied soul that has rejoined his community in the light.

Angel (Human):

A mature soul who lives for service to others and to God.

Application:

1. To assume identity as soul.
2. To apply spiritual principles in form.
3. To see love where the eyes of the body do not.

Bless:

1. To extend the gifts of spirit, perfect joy, perfect health, and perfect abundance.
2. To ask the God within to accept love from without.

Collective:

1. All souls, the combination of all types of souls, along with their source.
2. A community of cocoons.
3. All of creation.
4. All of a type of creation.

Communion:

The celebratory conversation between the created aspects of creation, both with one another and with their source.

Creation:

All things made from love that are not temporary in nature, but eternal.

Crystal Vision:

To see clearly, to understand the truth in any event or situation.

Curse:

Something misunderstood.

Dimension:

Levels that demonstrate an amount of love and how much it is able to express. The higher the dimension, the lower the resistance. The lower the dimension, the higher the resistance.

Third Dimension:

Height, weight, and length, occupying space and under the law of gravity.

Fourth Dimension:

Awareness of unseen entities and dimensions.

Fifth Dimension:

The embodiment of the divine in form.

Sixth to Ninth Dimensions:

Degrees of loss of self, usually not seen in the third dimension.

Disease:

1. Dis-ease.
2. Form of rejected feelings.
3. Blame of self.

Disembodied:

Either a soul seedling, developing soul or mature soul that is free of the restraints of caring for a body, free of ego and free of any and all social demands.

Divine Self:

1. A 'person's' identity in truth
2. Soul, aspect of God.
3. All powerful, connected to all other aspects of God.

Ego:

Natural operating system of the human form, which cannot exist without it. It is eventually superseded by a divine, mature soul, which assumes control of the human body.

Embodied:

Either a cocoon like form for an embryonic seed or a functioning reflection of a mature soul that activates it.

Energy:

1. Dormant, potential, or active.
2. This is how divine source expresses.

Essence:

1. A soul's stamp of individuality. There are no two that are alike.
2. An individualized quality of soul.

Evil:

Thoughts and actions that stem from a misunderstanding of self and of love. These affect the third dimension only and can only exert power over those susceptible to them.

False Self:

1. Personhood.
2. The identity of the ego: likes, dislikes, bad experiences, unwanted experiences, good experiences (all from the nonexistent past) and hopes and desires from the future that have not been created yet.

Fear:

1. Resistance to love
2. Love's challenge to acknowledge, shine light on and persevere over, in partnership.
3. Misinterpretation of love.
4. Rejection of love.
5. Clouds that obscure love.
6. An unreal reaction.
7. Concern for things that in and of themselves are unreal.
8. Focus on control.

Form:

Form can be at the cellular level or at a complex level. A soul, whether it be singular or collective, gives it life. A dead form has dormant energy or potential energy. Forms change but don't truly die, as everything has potential energy for another form to consume.

Freedom:

True freedom is to follow your own heart, your own soul, at all times, without regard to how this might be viewed by the uninitiated.

Free Spirit:

Mature souls are free spirits. They are free to give love where they see fit, knowing that God is touching other aspects of God.

Gift:

1. Life in form.
2. Joy, health, and abundance.

God:

God is a collective of souls, along with a core intelligence that created them.

Grandeur:

The manifestation of presence.

Grandiosity:

The ego's attempt to artificially produce grandeur.

Hierarchy:

A level of soul development that forms an organizational structure. Souls move up in the hierarchy as they mature. The final stop in the hierarchy is Source. All souls begin and will return to Source one day.

Holy Instant:

Once a pinprick of light, it grows to be an all-consuming way of life.

Illusion:

1. To see events or situations without the presence of God.
2. To believe that a small identity in form is the totality of identity.
3. To believe that God is somewhere that isn't here.
4. Not seeing something from the perspective of wholeness.
5. Only seeing part of something, namely a negative element.

Intuition:

A sixth sense of knowing. A certainty that does not require supportive evidence.

Light:

1. Synonym for love.
2. A type of energy.

Love:

Care and consideration for all of God's creations, unconditionally.

Magic:

1. Human thinking.
2. Wonderous Events.

Power:

All true power is infused with love. Anything that isn't, is not true power and is illusory.

Presence:

1. Oneness with God.
2. Oneness with the all of everything.
3. Alignment of soul with source (love).

Reality:

1. As seen from the perspective of love.
2. Seeing potential manifestation of love.

Realm:

Divisions between dimensions.

Receive:

Willingly accept without question.

Resistance:

Fear of love.

Resource:

Written, spoken or visual representation of divine truth.

Role Playing:

To play a part that you were born into or that you assigned to yourself. Role playing is always done from a place of ego, which always seeks to gain something from the roles it plays.

Service:

1. To hold one another in such high esteem as to entirely focus attention on anything physical or spiritual that they may need, either in the short term or the long term.
2. To elevate the idea of another aspect of God from being 'other than' to being 'the same as'.

Sixth Sense:

Awareness of the unseen realm.

Soul:

A soul is a specially designed form of God that starts in seed form. There are no two that are alike. There are both individual souls and group souls. Souls grow through both positive (love) and negative (fear) experiences while in form. Souls are immortal and can be either dormant or in a growth stage.

Soul Groups:

Soul groups tend to stay together in and out of form. Groups usually wait until each one has returned from their mission, before embarking on another one.

Truth:

The knowledge about what form is, what it is for, what its purpose is and what lives inside it (God).

Vision:

The ability to see to the root of any situation or encounter and find the love that fear obscures.

Void:

Lack of expression of love.

Worldview:

How one sees the entirety of the world, whether from a place of separation to a place of purpose, potential and wholeness.

Chapter Four: The Dilemma

Tuesday, February 23, 2021 1:07 pm

In A Journey into the Unknown, we have provided enough meaningful and practical information to shift identity from this to that, from person to spirit. Daily support for this transformation is also being provided.

We've proven that this can actually be done. The impossible is possible. It has taken great planning and the provision of resources. It is working and there is ample proof of this. Since you're reading this, just take an un-apologetic view of yourself and see what has happened.

The question now is, how can we reach other spiritual people, religious people, humanists? How can we encourage them to take a taste of freedom from ideas, freedom from identity? This is what we will explore in this chapter.

End Time: 1:18 pm

Wednesday, February 24, 2021 6:46 pm

The world is so much more intricately messy now thanks to the internet and social media. The subject of identity, both individual and group, has become more complicated due to amplification that platforms allow and provide, along with their ability to literally collapse time. Things that used to take days, weeks or months to reach the furthest points in the world, now take seconds.

There are certainly good and wonderful things about the internet and social media but as everyone has been witness to, there are negative things as well.

We want to bring our messages about the most important and crucial pieces of truth to everyone on the planet. We want to use our tools that are available to us, along with the instant publishing that is available, to make our point, without arguing about it. Uninitiated people will not understand any of it. Arguing would be their only response. Most would find the truth to be quite foreign and threatening, frankly.

Every aspect of the truth goes against the grains of upbringing, conditioning, religious indoctrination and some would say, common sense.

The truth is known to a relatively few people, who awakened and sought it out. First came this book, then another, then another, then a website, then a group, then a Zoom group, etc. etc. This is everyone's common story when first being exposed to the truth and then being completely immersed in it.

There is only one truth, one set of irreputable facts about identity, souls and the world at large. However, there are different flavors of the truth.

While there may be some who have dabbled in all of the different flavors, for the most part, particular people are drawn to a particular flavor. This means that certain people were drawn to A Course in Miracles, A Course of Love and finally A Journey into the Unknown. Certain others were attracted by the mystical eastern teachings. There is a growing group that found truth in astrological energies. There is a group dedicated to the teachings of a popular author who based some of his teachings on A Course in Miracles. There are various teachers of A Course in Miracles who have attracted a following. Finally, there are a very few who found truth in one or more of the world's religions, including non-traditional ones.

Exact beliefs may vary within all of the aforementioned groups and there may be minor or major differences of opinion about various topics. However, most members of these groups would agree on core principles of the truth (Chapter One of Book Two).

We aren't asking anyone to stop believing in whatever they may believe in. We are, however, asking those with willing hearts to set their beliefs to the side. Beliefs are just thoughts. They are taught and sometimes, they are just developed individually, based on experience.

However these beliefs came into being, we are just asking that they be gently set aside, so we can form a larger collective group that is brought together by a knowing that we all share. This knowing is that love is all there is and that each of us is a part of love. If we can agree on this one principle, this one truth, then we can agree to disagree on everything else because they are really neither here nor there.

If someone knows that only love is true and they think the world is an illusion, can they still be a source of love in the world? We think so.

If someone knows that only love is true and they believe that they are an alien disguised as a human, can they still be a source of love in the world? We think so.

If someone knows that only love is true and they believe that only good people will go to heaven when they die, can they still be a source of love in the world? We think so.

Our point is that beliefs should not be so powerful that they prevent love from being expressed. There are many wonderful, loving people on earth who have all kinds of beliefs about a great many things. These have at times, stopped love from flowing from one individual to another, from one group to another. Now, we have a proposal."

Chapter Five – “The Alliance”

Saturday, February 27, 2021 7:09 pm

Our proposal is that an alliance be created between both individuals and groups. This alliance will be a peace treaty of sorts, one that simply says,

‘We know that only love is true.
We know we are love.
We only seek to extend love.
Love is power.’

These four sentences are so vast in meaning that they will change the world. A Southern Baptist can say these words and act accordingly, putting aside any harsh judgements. A Methodist, a Catholic, a Jew, a Muslim, a Hindu, a Buddhist, a Pagan, a Wiccan, an agnostic, an atheist, a political pundit, the list goes on and on. All of these people and groups, with willing hearts, can join this alliance.

The only price of admission is willingness.

Chapter Six – “The Plan”

Monday, March 1, 2021 10:32 am

“We will not seek a stamp of approval from any of the earth’s organizations. What we are seeking, however, are willing individuals who will freely, of their own accord, sign on to be a part of The Alliance. We are simply asking those from every background imaginable to dedicate their lives to love, one day at a time, one moment at a time.

We are prepared to support those who align themselves with us in a myriad of ways. Besides the large amount of resources available to help encourage the leaving behind of old identities, we will continue to provide daily support and encouragement to be made available on websites.

Leaving behind old identities is a process that loving thoughts and actions will facilitate and support. What is most important is the willingness to commit. Look at the world today, during the global pandemic, as an example. So many people are already involved in doing good works for themselves and others in their communities. A commitment to this as a lifestyle is just one small step forward for those who are already engaged in this work.”

Chapter Seven – “A Letter to the Readers”

Tuesday, March 2, 2021 11:27 am

“So, now you’ve seen where we are headed with all of this. A Journey into the Unknown is now officially finished (in a way). The supportive messages will be ongoing. We hope that many of you will continue to share these and that you will think of Journey as an available resource to those who want to learn more about living a life of love.

With “The Alliance”, we will be moving into brand new territory, asking a wide variety of individuals from a wide variety of backgrounds to dedicate themselves to love on a daily basis. With nothing to buy, nothing to join and no dogma to believe in, just their own willingness will help their souls to open up and seek out more information about love and spirituality.

Who better to offer this support and resources than a group of committed mature souls?

“The Alliance” will be initiated by a team of people that is being formed now as I speak. It is our way of bringing non-spiritual, spiritual, non-religious and religious people together to form community, with love being the only common theme. After this is accomplished with the help of a network of support with physical and online resources, as well as physical and non-physical guides, we will see a new and stronger second coming of Christ.

Mark my words.

Thank you each for your continued dedication to living a life of love as a free spirit!

Love, Jesus”
